

Trevor Boundy <trevor@boundy39.com>

Addition to my Book on Fubars

1 message

Tandy Walker <rdb435021@icloud.com>
To: Tandy Walker <rdb435021@icloud.com>

Thu, Apr 18, 2019 at 5:18 AM

In my book I said:

There were thirteen separate e-mails starting on April 16, 2003 and approval finally coming on April 29, 2003. The final spar design that was approved for NFFS Nostalgia competition is shown below. (If you have a copy of my book, I encourage you to read Appendix B through in order to understand the number of iterations and amount of effort it took to obtain the Nostalgia Committee's approval.)

A friend pointed out in an e-mail that:

Tandy,
I've examined my copy of your book and Appendix B does not seem to have any relationship to you're talking with the Nostalgia committee.....Does it?
Where was the 1951 Nat's held?

The 1951 Nat's were held in Dallas, Texas. It is funny, I could have sworn that I included the e-mails in my June 3, 2009 book revision. However, when I reviewed my book last evening he was right. They are not in Appendix B and in fact they do not appear anywhere in the book. So in order to clear up this matter, I have attached the Word file that does contain the thirteen e-mails that transpired between myself and the NFFS Nostalgia committee in getting final approval of my light weight spar design.....Tandy

 Fubar Wing Spar Design Approval.doc
117K